The StarSearch Game is an opportunity to explore creative talents of art and music, song and dance, comedy, storytelling, performance art, and visual arts.

Starsearch is played with a Game Playing Board, (over) Artlife Trivia Questions and Art Performance Cue Cards.

When your turn comes, you can talk about the artistic life, or put on a performance until other players tell you to stop.

Everyone in the Starsearch Game begins as an amateur artist. From the amateur outer circle, you work your way to center stage, by answering trivia questions, telling stories, singing and performing. To become a star performer on center stage is the aim of the game.

Show Your Talents for Fame and Fortune

How to Play: The StarSearch Game can be played when players invest in their talents. The game begins when players place a coin, or personal token, on the playing board. Then when your turn comes around, put on a show of your talents for a minute or two

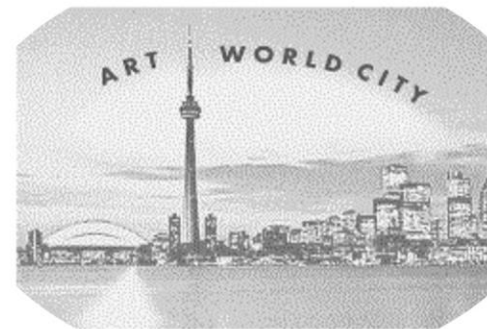

How to Win. You Win the StarSearch Game by performing for an audience of critics. The other players are judges. At the end of every performance, the judges decide if you can move your token, from the Amateur Outer Circle to the Star Center.

The first player to reach Centerstage is the winner of the game. Winners get to keep all the money & tokens on the playing board. Then a new game can begin. Everyone wins in a StarSearch Game.

Now anyone can host an Art Party, by playing games with friends and strangers. All you need is a StarSearch Gameboard and players.
